

About me

The Geographer

Research the country/countries your family comes from.
 Can you create a fact file about the country/ countries?
 Include the flag
 Religion
 Famous people
 Food
 And anything else you find interesting

The coach

Sports day should have been fast approaching; can you create your own sports day at home?
 You could include races, obstacle courses, bean bag balancing or just make up your own ideas.
 We would love to see how you get on!

The Historian

Research your surname. Where does it originate? What is the meaning behind it?
 Complete a family tree. Ask the adults around you to help as much as they can. How far back can you go?

The Artist

Create a self-portrait. You could research self-portraits and see if there are any key artists you would like to use as inspiration.
 Draw a family portrait to show you and your family. You could add a fun background such as being on an African Safari to link to our last topic.

The biographer

Write about yourself and your family, you could turn this into a project ready for year 4.
 Your talents/ skills
 What would you like to do when you are older?
 Your likes and dislikes
 Who you live with
 Anything else you would like to include to show case how amazing you are!

The mask maker

African masks are used for a variety of different reasons. They are used in social events, but also to control good and evil spirits. Can you create your own African mask to control good and evil spirits?

The botanist

In a lot of rural areas of Africa, farmers will grow their own crops to eat and feed the local community. These crops need caring for all of the time. Your task is to plant, nurture and care for a plant or collection of plants. These could be edible or not. E.g. lettuce, cress, radishes.
