Comic creator

Thinking of a superhero or creating your own, make a comic strip to show an exciting adventure that they have been on. Think about:

Does it have a villain?

Does it have a happy ending?

The Artist

Can you create your own superhero poster? Begin by thinking about your superhero's powers, what that will make them look like, and what their personality is like.

Draw your superhero and annotate around it to tell us all about your hero.

Helpful heroes

Every hero is a friend to someone. What qualities do you think a hero needs to be a good person? Write a short paragraph explaining why heroes are role models and what makes them like this.

The Historian

Can you create a fact file of a hero (this doesn't have to be a superhero) who has had a great impact through time.

E.g. Florence Nightingale, Mary Seacole, Nelson Mandela.

The Writer

Can you create a superhero story?

Your story must have a beginning, middle and end.

Try to include as many Year 2 writing skills as you can.

E.g. similes, expanded noun phrases.

The Geographer

Create a map to a villain's lair, including a key showing important geographical features. E.g. the lair, bridges, mountains, rivers.

Challenge – Can you identify if these are physical or human features?

The Designer

Every superhero needs a home. Somewhere to rest out of harm's way.

Can you create a superhero lair for your hero, or another hero? It could be a mansion, a house, a lair inside a cave. Be as creative as you like.

Use junk modelling and whatever resources you have available to create your lair.

A super hero diet

Every superhero needs to stay in tip top condition.

What do you think a superhero diet consists of?

Can you create 3 balanced meals for a superhero?

This must breakfast, dinner and tea.
