

Year 6's Enterprise Week—next week....

Next week, Year 6 children are going to be taking part in our annual Year 6 Enterprise Week - with the sole aim of selling their products in our Enterprise Fair next Friday morning (14th July) with all funds going towards their leavers party.

On Friday 14th July, from 10am onwards, all products will be sold in our school hall where children from Years 1-5 will be invited to spend, spend and spend some more at our Enterprise Fair! We would be very grateful if you could send your child into school with a small amount of money on the 14th July, in order for them to make small purchases – no more than £5 will be needed.

Please return all school reading books and library books....

Please can all school reading books and library books be returned back into school by Friday 14th July, ahead of the summer holidays. This will allow us to restock resources for the start of the new academic year.

Wednesfield in Bloom 2023

Today marks judging day for this year's Wednesfield in Bloom competition for which the whole Wednesfield community pulls together each year. This year, Wednesfield primary schools were tasked with creating two scarecrows which had to meet a certain criteria. If you get chance this weekend, pop down to Wednesfield village/amphitheatre or Ashmore Park and see if you can spot any of the scarecrows and admire the beautiful plants and decorations.

Careers Week 2023

This week, children in Years 1 to 6 have been considering their options and aspirations for the future. Alongside this, a multitude of visitors kindly volunteered their time to share their careers with our children across Key Stage 2. During their talks, they shared the skills and qualifications needed for their careers, the path (or paths) they took to get there and in some cases, demonstrated the work they do.

Thank you so much to the parents and volunteers who gave their time to raise our children's aspirations and ambition:

- Dicky Dodd (radio presenter)

- Lizzie Goodger (Lapworth Museum of Geology)

- Stacey Harris (paramedic)

-Miss Nicholls from Wolverhampton Music School

-Mr Davies (marine)

-Mrs Round (senior sister)

-Rachel Norton (medical practitioner)

-Rev. Tom Fish

- Sergeant Beards

- Oli Dix (golf pro)

- Keeley Fellows (dog walker)

- Sarah Chandos Hall (midwife)

- Megan Read (construction project manager)

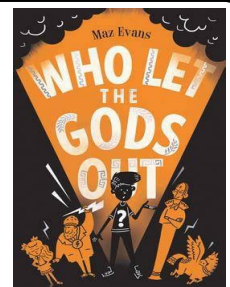

- Mrs Lambert (surgical nurse)

-PC Cosford and PCSO Deeley

Recommended Read of the Week

Year 5 would like to recommend reading their current class text: Who Let the Gods Out? It is most suited for children aged 9+. The children have been able to relate to the main character and love the banter he has with Virgo. Funny, witty, inspired and utterly contemporary, this fantasy adventure is a magical blend of ancient and modern, with brilliant characterisation and a truly human story at its heart.

Are you this week's star of the week?

A child from each class is chosen as Star of the Week for doing something special during that week. It may be related to their work, behaviour and/or their attitudes to learning.
